Probus is a World-wide friendship.

Just one example: a Probus Club in Arras, Northern France, invited one of our members, Russell Stewart, to attend one of their monthly luncheons, held in an hotel in the town. Here are two photos of the lunch including Probus member Patrick Senlis on Russell’s right and the President, Marcel Gambier, on his left.

Another photo of Patrick Senlis and his wife Annie, who runs Le Clos Grincourt, a bed and breakfast near Arras. Arras was almost destroyed in the First World War but has been restored and is picturesque; in the area you can find a great many cemeteries and memorials, several for Australian soldiers.
